Paragraph Writing

Use the hints given below to write two paragraphs on 'The Papaya Plant'

- Papaya belongs to the family of Caricaceae fruit.
- First originated in southern Mexico, also available in tropical and sub-tropical countries
- Known as papaw in Australia.
- Helps in digestion, cures skin irritation.
- Provides energy and body building material.
- Fights against unhealthy mucus in stomach, chronic diarrhea etc.
- Used as cosmetics – removes freckles, makes skin smooth and delicate.

The Papaya Plant

The papaya or pawpaw is from the family Caricaceae. It originates in central tropic of America and was first cultivated in Mexico; also it has been planted in tropical and subtropical countries. It is called in various names in various countries such as pawpaw in Australia, Papaw in Thailand and named as tree melon in Europe.

Milky latex that is obtained from the unripe fruit of the papaya tree has numerous medicinal uses. Papain made from the latex is used as an ingredient in manufacturing the Chewing gum.

All parts of the tree have some medicinal properties. The mature fruit helps in digestion, cures skin irritation and sun burns. The fruit provides energy and body building material. It fights against unhealthy mucus in stomach, chronic diarrhea, constipation etc. It is used as cosmetics also. It removes freckles and makes skin smooth and delicate. Now we can say that like banana plant and neem tree, the Papaya Plant is also a symbol of complete utility.

LITERATURE

Write the summary of the poem 'Tiger'

'Tiger' is a poem written by Leslie Norris which deals with the life of a tiger in a cage ----his dreams and hopes. The poet tries to make us understand that a tiger or any other animal should not be kept in a cage or zoo. In the zoo, he is imprisoned in a concrete cage. Though he seems to be quiet, he controls all the rages in him. If he were in the forest, he would chase a plump deer or would frighten the whole village near the forest, showing his sharp teeth and claws. In the cage, he is quite unhappy and ignores the visitors. At night, he stares at the brilliant stars, hoping that one day he also would be far away from the cage like stars.

Dear Shruti

How I miss you and your jokes and pranks during break in school. Hope you have settled down in your new school and made some new friends. Mummy says she may permit me to visit you in Delhi during the summer vacation.

Shruti, it was so kind and thoughtful of you to remember my birthday. Your card and parcel arrived just I was getting ready to cut my cake. I was delighted to get the personal notebook and stationary set. Just what I needed! And the lock and key means I can keep it safe from my snooping little sister.

Mummy,Daddy and all our friends join me in sending you their love.Looking forward to seeing you at the earliest.

Yours affectionately

Anu

2. Write the character sketch of 'Anancy' from the lesson 'Bro Tiger Goes Dead,' and the character sketch of 'Mr.Pickwick' from the lesson 'The Pickwick Club.'

'Character Sketch of Anancy'

Anancy is a spider who uses his wits to defend himself against powerful enemies like the tiger. He is clever enough too and thinks deeply before taking his thoughts into actions. When the tiger pretends to be dead he says that how can the tiger die without remembering his lord. Anancy uses his intelligence and common sense and tricked the tiger to reveal the truth. He proves that even the meek can survive if they use their intelligence in a right way.

'Character Sketch of Mr.Pickwick'

Mr. Samuel Pickwick was a fine old gentleman. He had bright eyes, a large round face, a full figure and a generous heart. He dressed in an old-fashioned way and always wore glasses. He was interested in everyone he met and everything he saw. He lived in England in the days when people were becoming very interested in Science. He was famous for discovering where the water in the Hampstead ponds came from. He was known as a clever person among his friends. He was the most important person of 'The Pickwick Club'.
